

The Honourable Society of Lincoln's Inn

Privacy Policy

Introduction

This Privacy Policy details the ways in which The Honourable Society of Lincoln's Inn ('Lincoln's Inn' or 'the Inn') collects, processes and uses personal data about its members and other contacts ('Users') who may reasonably expect their personal data to be processed by the Inn. Personal data means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person (data subject); an identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that person.

The Honourable Society of Lincoln's Inn is the Data Controller and any data collected is used in accordance with the principles of the UK GDPR and Data Protection Act (DPA) 2018.

What data do we collect?

Users directly provide Lincoln's Inn with most of the data we collect. We collect and process data using paper forms, emails, via the website using online forms and other means. Information is also collected through the use of Cookies. For further details, please see our Cookies Policy below.

The information that we collect includes:

Use of Data for Direct Marketing and Fundraising Purposes

The Inn may send you marketing communications about its events, services, education and training programmes or other offers the Inn thinks are relevant or of interest to its members and we have your consent to do so, although occasionally we may send marketing communications to you if we believe it is in our legitimate interest to do so. Also, it may occasionally provide you selected information about Lincoln's Inn's third-party partners according to your preferences to the extent necessary to provide the service.

You have a right to ask the Inn not to process your personal data for marketing purposes by using the 'unsubscribe' link at the bottom of marketing communications that you receive from the Inn. Alternatively if at any time you wish to alter your preferences or opt out of receiving communications, you should email communications@lincolnsinn.org.uk or write to Programme and Communications Manager, The Honourable Society of Lincoln's Inn, Treasury Office, Lincoln's Inn, London WC2A 3TL.

Disclosure of Personal Information to Third Parties

Lincoln's Inn will not share your data with a third party unless required to do so by law or if you have consented to the disclosure. The Inn may be required to share some of your data with external bodies such as agencies connected with the Bar including the Bar Standards Board (BSB), the Bar Council, the Circuits, Specialist bar associations and the other Inns, with local authorities or financial companies.

A Data Sharing Protocol is in place between the independent data controllers: the Bar Standards Board (BSB), the Council of the Inns of Court (COIC) and each of the four Inns of Court (Inner Temple, Middle temple, Lincoln's Inn and Gray's Inn. This document provides a framework for the collection, sharing, retention and destruction of information to support the BSB in the administration of its regulatory functions. A copy of the protocol can be found using this link:

You may be able to find links to third party websites from the Lincoln's Inn website or social media channels. These sites are outside the control of Lincoln's Inn and are not covered by its Privacy Policy. Lincoln's Inn is not responsible for the practices employed by these websites, including their content and links. Additionally, any personal data collected by the operators of these third-party websites may be used in accordance with their separate privacy policies, which may differ from the Privacy Policy of Lincoln's Inn.

How do we store your data?

The Inn will take all necessary steps to ensure your data is stored and processed securely in accordance with the UK GDPR and DPA 2018. All the Inn's employees are personally responsible for maintaining personal information confidentially and to ensure that the information is only processed for the purpose for which it is collected. The Inn will provide training to staff members about their obligations under this policy, the UK GDPR and DPA 2018.

All personal information that you provide to the Inn is stored in secure storage facilities at the Inn, on secure servers both at the Inn and in other locations in the UK and at approved third-party locations in line with the IT management and business continuity plans. Payments made via the Inn's website will be processed by a third-party payment processor on behalf of the Inn.

How long will we keep your data?

The Inn will keep your data for no longer than is required for its processing. The Inn has a retention schedule for Inn staff to follow that is appropriate for each different data processing activity.

What are your data protection rights?

The Inn would like to make sure you are fully aware of all your data protection rights. Every User is entitled to the following:

Your right of access

You have the right to ask us for copies of your personal information, known as a Subject Access Request. This right always applies. There are some exemptions, which means you may not always receive all the information we process. Please refer to the Data Access Request Form.

Your right to rectification

You have the right to ask us to rectify information you think is inaccurate. You also have the right to ask us to complete information you think is incomplete. This right always applies.

Your right to erasure

You have the right to ask us to erase your personal information in certain circumstances.

Your right to restriction of processing

You have the right to ask us to restrict the processing of your information in certain circumstances.

Your right to object to processing

You have the right to object to processing if we are able to process your information because the process forms part of our public tasks, or is in our legitimate interests.

Your right to data portability

This only applies to information you have given us. You have the right to ask that we transfer the information you gave us from one organisation to another, or give it to you. The right only applies if we are processing information based on your consent or in talks about entering into a contract and the processing is automated.

If you make a request to action your rights under the UK GDPR and DPA 2018, we have one month to respond to you. If you would like to exercise any of these rights, please contact us by email: data.protection@lincolnsinn.org.uk
